Where you actually touch ... and feel the furniture ... is the handle ... the knob.

For us, emotionally driven humans, these touch points are vital — for decision-making and for the feeling of comfort and happiness. And we are all craving happiness.

The focus of furniture design today is the subtle energy of colors and forms — creating a positive feeling, supporting our positive emotions towards our living space, and, from the very beginning, influencing the purchase decision.

A stable, smooth, authentic touch — a sustainable product, whether it is our BIO range or recycled polymers — stability and functionality achieved with fewer materials ... lightweight. These are all important parameters.

Colors and forms that are only possible thanks to our carefully selected materials and surfaces. An alchemy of the elements.

Circular economy is our goal — and the sustainable furniture of the future.

Activating positive emotions, the aim. Sustainability the norm.
